A New Mexican Sunset.

The Eastern weather men often report disturbances originating in the Rocky Mountains. In and beyond the surrounding mountains, near and far, are the many caves of Eolus, the laboratories of nature's electricity, and the peaks which make the sympathetic clouds give down. Often the still air is suddenly surprised by a breeze from some unexpected quarter, as if some mountain god of the winds had awakened. And it may cease suddenly, and as suddenly may come from another quarter.

From the Santa Fe basin may be seen in the mountain panorama several distinct showers at once, with clear sky between. Often the setting sun displays several rainbows at once, with suggestions of more. Last week a rainbow, springing from the mountain top, with a breadth more like a tower, had an illumination more like a column of fire than the usual rainbow faintness. But this was rare even for this wonderful sky. While all is serene over the valley, the lightning may be giving grand shows in the mountains. Sometimes a diffusing light cloud between gives the effect of a general illumination.

Who can conceive, without having seen it, the scene in which the sun, having set from a great bank of singularly leaden clouds through a streak of clear sky at the horizon, which it changed to a brilliant golden, then from behind the mountain lighted up the edges of the leaden clouds to a bright silver, then gradually changed this to a fire red, strangely contrasting with the growing black; this display reaching far toward the zenith, and wide in the horizon! Meanwhile the reflection from the west illumined several distinct showers in the south to a golden rain, and gave a red color to light clouds at the zenith and in the east. And while all this gorgeous show was going on in the west, south, and east, a black cloud with vivid lightning was spreading over all the north, its western edge reddened with the general illumination. And so lasting was this reflection that when the thunder-cloud brought a shower into the valley, the color was of a golden mist.—[S. Romeo Reed, in the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.]

Siamese Nobility.

Let the reader not figure to himself any broad, straight level when I speak of Via Cavour as the principal street; it is only not so narrow and steep and curving as the rest, and a little more light gets into it, but there is one level, and one alone, in all Siena, and that is the Piazza, the public promenade, which looks very much like an artificial level. It is planted with pleasant little bosks and trim hedges, beyond which lurk certain cafes and beer houses, and a few walks and a drive. On a Sunday afternoon of February, when the military band played there, and I was told that the fine world of Siena resorted to the Piazza, we hurried thither to see it; but we must have come to late. The band were blowing the drops of distilled music out of their instruments, and shutting them up, and on the drive there was but one equipage worthy of the name. Within this carriage sat a refined looking boy—delicate, pale, the expression of an effete aristocracy—and beside him sat a very stout, gray-mustached, side-whiskered, eagle-nosed, elderly gentleman, who took snuff out of a gold box, and looked like Old Descent in person. I felt, at first sight of them, that I had met the Siamese nobility, whom otherwise I did not see; and yet I do not say that they may not have been a prosperous fabricant of Panforte and his son. A few young bucks, with fierce trotting ponies, in two seated sulks, hammered round the drive; the crowd on foot was mostly a cloaked and slouch-hat crowd, which, in Italy, is always a plebeian crowd. There were no ladies, but many women of less degree, pretty enough, well-dressed enough, and radiantly smiling. In the center of the place shone a resplendent group of officers, who kept quite to themselves. We could not feel that we had mingled greatly in the social gaieties of Siena, and we wandered off to climb the bastions of the old Medicean fort—very bold with its shield and palle over the gateway—and listened to the bees humming in the oleander hedge beneath.—[W. D. Howells, in the Century.]

Annals of a Quiet Neighborhood.

Suburban Belle—How delightful it must be to spend Christmas in a great country house, like Stilton Grange, for instance. Delightful Stranger (from London)—Yass. By-the-by, her grace of Stilton has just written to say she expects me there for Christmas week. S'pose I shall have to go! Suburban Belle—Won't you find it rather lonely? Delightful Stranger—Lonely! A—why? Suburban Belle—Because I saw in to-day's Morning Post that the duke and duchess, and family are not expected back from Australia before February. (Collapse of delightful stranger.—[New York Commercial Advertiser.]

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in. Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of 75 per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10cts. Try it. nov29y1

A Life Made Miserable.

By dyspepsia is scarcely worth the living. A capricious appetite, heartburn, puzzling nervous symptoms, increased action of the heart after eating, sinking in the abdomen between meals, and flatulence after, are among the successive indices of this harassing complaint. Two things only are needful for its removal. A resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and persistence in its use. These remedial measures being adopted, a cure is certain. Taken immediately before or after meals, his great stomachic promotes secretion of the gastric juice, the natural solvent of the food. The nervous and bilious symptoms consequent upon chronic indigestion disappear, as the complaint gradually yields to the corrective and invigorating influence of the Bitters. Appetite returns, sleep becomes more refreshing, and as a sequence, the body is efficiently nourished, muscular power increases, and the mind grows sanguine. Use the Bitters for chills and fever, and rheumatism.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years; have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. J. Hodgkinson & Co.

A Murderous Gang Broken Up.

OZARK, Mo., April 21.

The Bald Knobbers' situation is becoming more serious each day. Yesterday Charley Graves, a prominent member of the midnight raiders, related a story of the raids he had attended, giving the names of the men who had accompanied him. He fixed the murder of George Edens on John Mathews. In the first assault on Edens' house, Edens was shot down but not killed. After ransacking the house the masked men retired, and George's mother was holding his head while he lay on the floor. A man appeared at the door and took deliberate aim at the wounded man and put a bullet through his head. Graves says he met John Mathews coming from the house and heard him say he was mad because he had been wounded in the back of the head and had returned to the house and finished the work of the Bald Knobbers. Parsons Simons and Will Newton want to make confessions to save themselves, but the prosecution refuse to accept them, as they say now they have enough testimony.

Want a Reduction.
WASHINGTON, April 21.
The following telegram has been received by the Inter-State Commerce Commission:

SAN JOSE, Cal.
The New Almaden, is the largest quicksilver producing mine in the United States. Its principal works are in New York, where its product comes into competition with Spanish quicksilver shipped at low rates of freight from London. Present transcontinental rate shuts us out of the New York market entirely, and will have consequently a disastrous effect on this industry.

I. B. RANDALL, Manager.
Several telegrams have been received from the Pacific Coast fruit interests, setting forth the disasters threatened by the new transcontinental rates.

Washington News.
WASHINGTON, April 21.

It is expected that another call for three per cent. bonds will be made in a few days. There are now outstanding $19,824,600 of three per cent. bonds, of which $16,491,900 are held by national banks, $3,325,700 by residents of the United States, and $7,000 by foreign residents.

A Land Owner's Failure.
UTICA, N. Y., April 21.
A general assignment of Geo. Clark, the millionaire land owner and hop dealer of Springfield, Otsego county, was filed in the Oneida County Clerk's office yesterday. There are $200,000 of unsatisfied judgments outstanding against him. He owned vast tracts of land in Oneida, Otsego, Madison, Chenango and adjoining counties. His liabilities have not been made public.

A Distinguished Gathering.
ALBANY, April 21.
The exercises in honor of the memory of the late President Arthur, were held in the Assembly Chamber last evening, a distinguished audience being present. The member's desks had been removed from the spacious chamber and seats substituted. The relations and most of the members of the Senate and Assembly, and many with their wives were present.

A High-Priced Ball Toss.
CHICAGO, April 21.
President Spalding, of the Chicago baseball club, yesterday released James McCormick, the pitcher, to the Pittsburgh club and received in exchange the right to engage the California pitcher, Vanhaltern, who was under a contract to play in Pittsburgh. It is understood that the Chicago club received $2,500 for the release of McCormick.

A Commendable Movement.
NEW YORK, April 21.
About 300 storekeepers' clerks and others were arrested this morning by the police for sweeping dust into the streets, in defiance of the mandate of Mayor Hewitt. In the Police Court the accused were either fined or sharply reprimanded by the magistrate.

Blaine's Brother Dead.
WASHINGTON, April 21.
Adjutant General Drum to-day received telegrams, stating that Major John E. Blaine, paymaster, and brother of ex-Secretary Blaine, died at Hot Springs, Arkansas, this morning.

A Silversmiths' Strike.
NEW YORK, April 21.
Two hundred and fifty men refused to accede to the terms of the Tiffany & Co.,

the largest silversmiths of this city, and to-day did not proceed to work. The firm posted notices that after 3 p. m. to-day, no man belonging to the Union would be recognized as a Union man. Fifty men accepted the terms, and the others are expected to come to work. The whole of the silversmiths in this city have combined against the firm, and in view of the money now being given District Assembly No. 49 within the last few days, they are likely to succeed. Some of the silversmiths have worked for Tiffany 35 years, and it is claimed they only went out through intimidation.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Imprisoned for Debt.
GIBRALTER, April 21.

It is reported here that two Englishmen displaying an American flag recently imprisoned a Hebrew merchant of Alcazar, Morocco, for debt. They took him in chains to Tangiers, parading him through three towns on the way, the outrage being aggravated by the fact that it was inflicted during the Passover. The principal Hebrews of Tangiers have joined in an appeal to the French, Portuguese and British Consuls for assistance in an attempt to have all Governments unite in efforts to suppress the system of consular abuses under which these outrages are perpetrated.

German Emigration Statistics.
BERLIN, April 21.

An official report upon emigration has been presented by the Reichstag. It shows that the number of emigrants from Germany who passed through Hamburg, Bremen and Settin during the year 1886, was 97,000, or a decrease of 22,000 from the previous year, when 89,000 persons left the Empire. The report says that on the other hand, the emigration from Austria, Hungary, Russia, Sweden and Norway through the same ports in 1886 was largely in excess of that of 1885.

Gladstone Still Hopeful.
LONDON, April 21.

Gladstone writes that he does not desire a general election to Parliament until the English mind is as ripe on the Irish question as the Welsh and Scotch minds are, but that the time is rapidly advancing. "Anyhow," he says, "I am prepared to face anything to defeat coercion. I continue to hope for much from a vigorous action on the part of constituents, whose representatives in Parliament have decisive votes on the issue."

Thought to be Lost.
VICTORIA, B. C., April 21.

Indians who arrived yesterday report that a schooner, supposed to be the missing Active, was found floating bottom upwards, south 30 miles from Cape Flattery. Should this prove correct, Guttman, the owner, Captain Gotschomem, three whites and 27 Indians, including a chief, are lost.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

Many Valuables Recovered.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.

Since the time of this month search has been in progress in the ruins of the Del Monte Hotel at Monterey, for valuables lost in the destructive fire. It was estimated after the fire that at least a hundred thousand dollars worth of diamonds and jewelry was buried in the ruins. Up to the present time about $20,000 worth of diamonds, jewelry and effects have been recovered. A pair of bracelets, with large solitaire diamonds of four carats, were found yesterday. A quantity of rings, perfectly preserved, were also found. A large black diamond onyx pin was found several days ago. Considerable coin has been discovered in the ruins; revolvers with their handles burned off, knives, toilet articles, ivory hair and nail brushes, fancy scissors, opera glass, all descriptions of jewelry and many valuable jewels have been recovered.

Held for Extradition.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.

J. P. Clark, an employee of Elle Ellen, a prominent lumber dealer of Truckee, who absconded with $6,000 six weeks ago, has been arrested at Victoria, B. C., where he is held awaiting proceedings for his extradition to Truckee.

Charles Kohler's Will.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.

Prospecting With Electricity.
LEADVILLE, April 21.

Leadville is excited over a new electric indicator that is used to determine the location, from surface observations, of underground mineral bodies. It is the invention of a prominent electrician of Boston, and is constructed upon the theory that the strong electric currents shown by large mineral bodies can be utilized to locate the latter. The machine is a simple affair, consisting of electrodes which connect with batteries in a box containing an electric needle. The influence of the electric subterranean currents upon the needle is supposed to indicate the presence of an ore body.

A PECULIAR OCCURRENCE.

The Experience of an Embellisher Who Had Confessed His Wrongs and Was Willing to Make Atonement for Them.

The GAZETTE learns of a rather unusual and peculiar occurrence in Carson last Saturday afternoon. On the evening of the previous day Sheriff Sweeney, of Eureka county, arrived in Reno, having in his custody L. O. Benedict, who had been found guilty of embezzling funds belonging to a Base Range Lodge of Odd Fellows while he was Secretary of it, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for two years. The Sheriff and prisoner were obliged to remain in town until the next morning before they could get a train for the State capital, where the Penitentiary is located. Before the train started Benedict expressed a desire to see certain of his friends in Reno. Sweeney, feeling confident that the convicted man would not attempt to escape, told him that he could do so, provided he took the passenger train that left for Carson at a quarter to 2 o'clock that afternoon and go direct to the prison and deliver himself up to Warden McCullough. Sweeney went on to explain that he was desirous of going to Virginia City and guessed he would go on the train about to leave. Benedict, promising to do as he was told, was given the official documents with the instructions that they be given upon his arrival at the prison to the Warden. A moment afterwards he was left alone, Sweeney having boarded the train that was just moving off.

Benedict saw his Reno friends, and at half past 1 o'clock was aboard the train that was to take him to Carson. Upon his arrival at the capital he started off at once for the prison. Before he had proceeded up the main street very far he met Warden McCullough and recognized him.

"I have some business here for you to look after," said Benedict. "All right," said the Warden, "what is it?"

"I have been convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to the State Penitentiary for two years. Here are the documents. Sheriff Sweeney had to go to Virginia City, and he gave them to me to deliver to you."

"How am I to know that you are the man Benedict spoke of in these papers?" asked the Warden. "This looks like a rather peculiar case. I cannot receive you at the prison until you are properly vouched for, or at least identified."

"That is impossible just now," replied Benedict, "for I don't know of a soul in Carson that I am acquainted with."

"How long has it been since Sweeney left you to go to Virginia City?"

"Since a quarter to 7 o'clock this morning."

"Well, I would advise that you go to the telegraph office, send a message to Mr. Sweeney, stating that I refuse to accept you until you are at least identified, and then go to the Ormsby House and remain there until he arrives."

The guilt-oppressed and bewildered convict, a man nearly 60 years of age, alone and friendless, scarcely knew what to do, but finally he did as he was bade, and after securing a room at the hotel sat down and cried. Sweeney arrived that evening and took him over to the prison.

A Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Frank Smith and John A. Fitzgerald was the occasion of a small but very pleasant gathering this afternoon at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Emmitt, on Center street. The invited guests included only a few intimate friends. At half-past 3 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor. First came Miss Leota Raneau, the bridesmaid, escorted by Mr. H. E. Davis, the groomsmen; then the groom escorting the bride's mother, and lastly the bride attended by her brother-in-law, J. F. Emmitt. The impressive marriage rites were solemnized by the Rev. Wm. Lucas, after which a brief reception was held. Many handsome and valuable presents awaited the newly-wedded couple. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Emmitt, Mrs. F. Smith, R. W. Parry and wife, H. E. Davis, Miss Leota Raneau, Miss Emma Hall, Albert Hall, H. P. Kraus, Miss L. Finlayson and George Hymers. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald will leave for California, where they will spend the honeymoon. They will then return to the Depot Hotel, of which Mr. Fitzgerald is the junior proprietor.

Reno's New Bank.

The Bank of Nevada, with a capital of $300,000, divided into 3,000 shares of $100 each, was organized in Reno this morning. Daniel Meyey, of San Francisco; M. D. Foley, of Eureka; George Russell, of Elko; M. E. Ward, J. N. Evans, A. Benson and L. Abraham, of Reno, were elected Directors for the ensuing year. At a meeting of the Directors held this afternoon M. D. Foley was elected President; M. E. Ward, Vice President; Moretz Meyer, Cashier; C. C. Powning, Assistant Cashier and Secretary. The new bank will be ready for business as soon as its rooms can be fitted up.

An Important Ore Development.

The rise in Crown Point, Belcher, Yellow Jacket and other Gold Hill stocks is attributed to developments of ore in the Crown Point mine on the 230 level, near its west boundary, which were made several months ago and kept quiet. It is reported that another mining company, controlling the back ledge, will soon lay claim to the ownership of the ore for the reason that the Crown Point people have found it west of and outside of their patented lines. It is said by practical mining men that the new development proves the existence of ore in paying quantities west of what has generally been accepted as the west or foot wall of the Comstock lode.

New School Law.

The following election law was passed by the last Legislature, and is of some interest to several of the School Districts in this county:

In all cases where there are two or more School Districts within the same election precinct, where Trustees were not elected by each separate School District at the general election of 1886, there shall be held at each of said Districts an election for School Trustees, on the second Saturday of May in each year at the school house in each of said Districts. They shall be elected for one, two and three years, respectively, and their successors shall be each elected for a term of three years, and shall take their office on the first Monday in June succeeding their election.

Central Pacific Surveys.

Says yesterday's Carson Index: Surveyor-General Jones appointed Thomas J. Read, of Eureka, a Deputy Surveyor yesterday. The appointment was made in accordance with the law passed at the last session of the Legislature providing for the survey of the main line and all the side tracks of the Central Pacific Railroad in this State for the purposes of taxation. Mr. Read will survey all of the road in Elko, Eureka and Lander counties. Another deputy will be appointed to survey the road in the other counties through which it runs, viz: Humboldt, Churchill and Washoe.

Safe, Sure and Speedy.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Alcock's Porous Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin.

Official Stup dity.

An English periodical relates a remarkable incident illustrating the stupidity of some officials. Lord Shaftesbury, who is much interested in the laboring classes, heard from a member of that class that a discussion had taken place in a public house pointing to an attack upon Clerkenwell Prison. The man naturally asked that his name might not be disclosed, because if it were revealed, he said, his life would be forfeited. Lord Shaftesbury gave him his pledge, and went straight to Whitehall to lay the facts before the authorities of the Home Office. They refused to take any action, or to make any further investigation unless the identity of the witness was revealed to them. Lord Shaftesbury came away in a hopeless mood; and Clerkenwell Prison wall was duly blown up in the course of a few days.

A Rough Night at Carson.

The Carson Tribune of the 20th inst. says: Not all through the past or passing Winter did such a rough night visit this valley as last. All the afternoon the wind blew in fitful gusts and about 11 P. M. it culminated in a veritable gale and shortly after the rain fell in torrents with snow on the mountains. It was indeed a heavy time and most earnestly folks hope it may be the last storm of the season.
